is directly subordinate to the Vinistry for State Security. This regiment was organized from the guard battalion of the HVDVP in late 1950. The regiment is quartered on Rudower Chaussee in Berlin-Adlershof in buildings bordering on the premises of the HVA. The missions of the regiment include the guarding of: those government buildings which are not guarded by the guard battalion of the HVDVP; the Pankow castle; the House of the Ministries on Leipziger Strasse; and the Central Committee of the SED where a company is permanently stationed. The regiment is also employed for traffic control and duty during parades and open air rallies and for guarding members of the government when they are traveling. In early August, the regiment consisted of 2,800 men and was organized into three battalions stationed in Parlin. Battalions of the Ministry of State Security existing at the seats of the former land governments, were also subordinate to this regiment.
